

A BEAUTIFUL EASTER CAROL.

ALL HAIL
THE GLORIOUS MORN.

WORDS AND MUSIC BY EVELYN BLOOM.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE
ST. LOUIS SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH
APRIL 7, 1901
By Permission of SOL BLOOM, Chicago.
Owner of Copyright.

All Hail, the Glorious Morn!

Words and Music by EVELYN BLOOM.

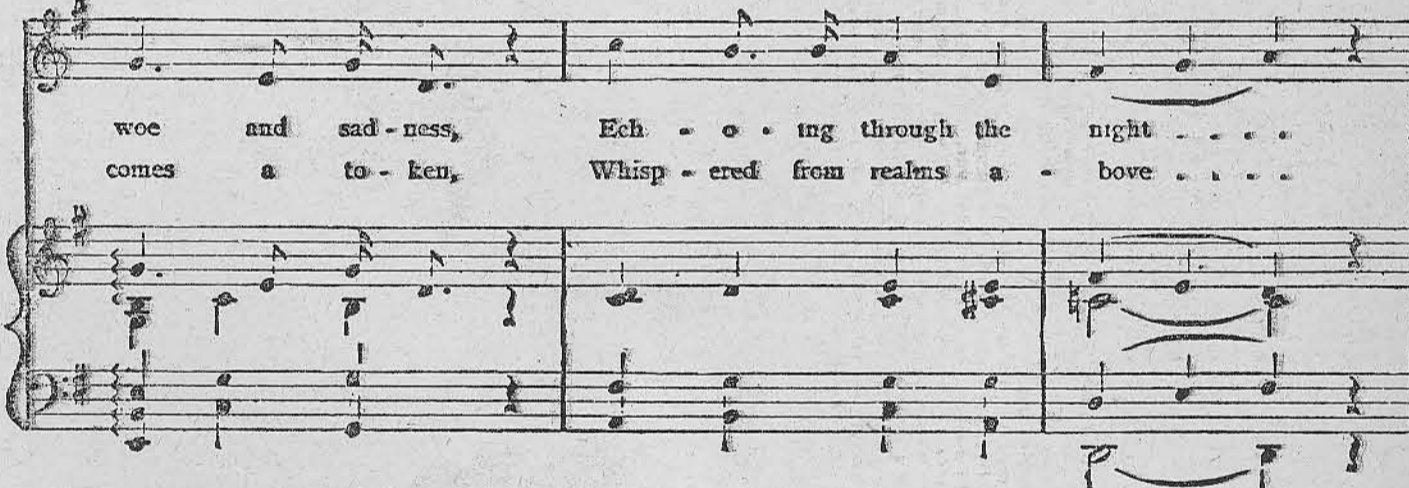

Moderato.

INTRO.

S.

1. Hark! to the sound of
2. Hark! through the night there

woe and sad-ness, Ech - o - ing through the night
comes a to - ken, Whisp - ered from realms a - bove

Gone from all hearts are joy and glad-ness, Dark - ness has slain the
"With morn-ing's light Death's pow'r is bro - ken, Free shall be He you

Copyright, 1901, by Sol Bloom.

light Mourn - ing the Mas - ter, watch - ers, they gath - er love See, in the East the pale light break - ing,

There in the star - less gloom, While Je - sus, loved Son O - ver the si - lent plain, Bring - ing the news of

of th' Fa - ther Sleeps in the si - lent Tomb
His a - wak - 'ning, Free is the Lord a

1 D. S. al f

gain Re - joice! re - joice! cre - tions The veil of Death is torn; Re - joice! for Christ

ris ent! All hail th' glo - rious morn!

"All Hail, the Glorious Morn!" 3-3